

MA CASANOVA

BIO

Ma Casanova's photographs show us the pleasure and beauty of everyday life, of everything that defines us as human beings. Sometimes, the surprise is given by the particularity of a gesture or a fact that has revealed itself aesthetically beautiful: a butterfly that perches on her dress, the movement of a woman's hair ... Other times the look goes beyond and in her proximities find moments full of beauty simply because they are our own: the spontaneous expression of love, tranquility and concentration that we experience when reading a book, enjoyment when contemplating a landscape, the genuineness with which we live our family moments ...

Balanced, evocative and above all sincere, Casanova's images make observe with complicity anonymous stories, which although they are not a reflection of dream happiness, belong to us, and we each learn to love them in our own way.
